All About the Colors

As we move into a world of unprecedented change, the selection of PANTONE 17-3938 Very Peri brings a novel perspective and vision of the trusted and beloved blue color family, encompassing the qualities of the blues, yet at the same time with its violet red undertone, PANTONE 17-3938 Very Peri displays a spritely, joyous attitude and dynamic presence that encourages courageous creativity and imaginative expressions.

— LEATRICE EISEMAN, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE PANTONE COLOR INSTITUTE

“Creating a new color for the first time in the history of our Pantone Color of the Year educational color program reflects the global innovation and transformation taking place. As society continues to recognize color as a critical form of communication, and a way to express and affect ideas and emotions and engage and connect, the complexity of this new red violet infused blue hue highlights the expansive possibilities that lay before us”.

— LAURIE PRESSMAN, VP OF THE PANTONE COLOR INSTITUTE

Meet the 70's

In 2022, 70's style will be in fashion once more. Add a touch of retro to dress up a space.

This nostalgic revival style originated from fashion and will be popular in interior design. Adding a touch of retro is the perfect way to dress up a space.

Colors like burnt orange, moss green, and other warm neutrals brighten up interiors. Consider a vintage couch reupholstered in these colorful pops of pattern and color.

Biophilic Design

Our collective love for lush indoor environments will continue to grow in 2022. Recent years have seen a steady increase in attention to biophilic design principles, emphasizing calming, plant-filled settings that establish a visual connection with nature.

Bringing nature indoors:

1. Prioritize plants as a design element.
2. Highlight the view outside.
3. Foster an indoor-outdoor connection.
4. Decorate with natural elements.

Research had shown that plants can improve concentration, reduce stress and fatigue levels, and produce a calmer, more productive work environment through added noise reduction.

It only makes sense that people are looking for ways to incorporate the outdoors into their work spaces.

Benefits of Biophilic Design

Improved Productivity

Increased Concentration Levels

Increased Creativity

Enhanced staff well being

Greater Staff Retention

With biophilia comes a restless curiosity, an urge to investigate and discover the elusive places where we meet nature, where she plays on our senses with colours and forms, perfumes and smells.

Black Accents

Black is the decor trend to watch in 2022. We will have black window frames, trim, doors, cabinet hardware, faucets, and door frames.

Black is sleek and modern-looking, so it's an easy choice. Add a touch of black to your spaces with black accent pieces like planters, lamps, and other small accents.

ALL ABOUT THE CURVES

From circular structural elements to gentle curves, rounded details are prevalent. Think of radiused corners or curved backs on sofas, flared arms on chairs, or bumpers on sectionals.

The trend will be reinforced by waterfall corners on desks and consoles and scalloped shapes on accent pieces like area rugs and ottomans. It is not necessary for curvatures to always be drastic. Comfortable, curvilinear, welcoming forms are vital. Curves are not necessarily plump and exaggerated but relatively soft and pleasant to the eye and the touch to create a relaxed and comfortable atmosphere.

HELLO VINTAGE

Expect to see more vintage and antique furnishings and decor in 2022. There is no doubt that vintage shopping is one of the best ways to make your space more sustainable, and antique furniture adds a lot of character to your space.

Take inspiration from other trending interior design styles and blend vintage with trending colors and textures.

Perfect pairs

Add a touch of nature with planters in complementing colors.

ZEN INTERIORS

Living a sustainable lifestyle goes beyond being environmentally friendly and eco-friendly. It's also about being more conscious of one's surroundings. It means not living in a way that causes stress to others and oneself.

In 2022, we will see more spaces designed with the aesthetic theme in mind. Zen-style living is defined by light wood, clean lines, and floating surfaces. Zen spaces tend to have a less-is-more approach to the decor while keeping it organic and natural. Plants are frequently featured to achieve this calming aesthetic.

Zen Design Tips

- 01 Clean Lines
- 02 Light Wood
- 03 Floating Surfaces

According to Mindful Chef, their office's beating heart is the kitchen and adjacent breakout area. While it is not used to create culinary magic, it is a prime hot-desking and social space at lunchtimes, where the team is provided with healthy meals.

MULTIFUNCTIONAL SPACES

The way we live is being rethought. Less emphasis is placed on what looks good in certain rooms and more about how we feel in our spaces and how we can create the most comfortable space that suits our personal needs.

We're thinking more about the environment, and smaller living is often more sustainable. Multifunctional spaces will likely be a hot trend in 2022. As a result, many people have become more aware of how they use each room in their home and what additional functions they can add to a single space.

CUSTOM ALUMINUM PLANTERS WITH SEATING

An ideal way to divide multifunctional areas into functional zones is to use planters to add greenery and a fantastic artistic accent to a room.

NEW MINIMALISM

Minimalism hit the past decade with gusto, but it is evolving. Minimalism isn't going anywhere. But the extreme, negative space aesthetic is waning. Minimalists these days are more content to have simple, classic things. This millennial-triggered minimalism phase is about having fewer things but the right things. It will sway away from the super sculptural, negative space-centric postmodernist type of minimalism to something a little warmer.

The right kind of minimalism enhances the livability of a space despite the lack of creature comforts. Highlighting a room's primary purpose allows you to focus on basic needs and chores. In such a setting, decluttering must become an integral part of daily life. For a simplistic look, stick to one or two primary materials, such as wood or steel, and limit ornamentation. Introduce visual interest by using different textures and contrasting surfaces.

Earth Colors

Trendy colors include earthy, sandy neutrals, and ethereal blues to evoke the natural landscape of sand and sky. Colors in earthy tones will dominate because consumers will continue to focus on nature.

Going Green

Nature will remain present in the interiors. The green color is a symbol of wellness that nature brings to us. Green will be in full swing by 2022, whether in paint or decor. We crave calm in our living spaces, which can be created by incorporating neutral, soft shades of green or letting the green take over altogether.
